COVID-19 has reshaped the landscape of our lives and hockey is no different. This season it means no tryouts, and no league play. It means less players on the ice at one time, and more time in between for cleaning, resulting in less overall ice time then we are generally used to. We all want to get back to the rink, but we must do it safely, and we must work within guidelignes set out by OHF, OMHA, the City of Guelph, and the University of Guelph.
